

Inviting Eve to Speak...

The character gets a bad rap in modern interpretations of the Eden Story of Genesis (Bible) . . . though more ancient interpretations have this clever woman giving birth to wisdom.

Modern incorrect assumptions about Eve might be preventing human beings from seeing women for all women are . . . ?

Join us as we sit in the quiet and write (or draw/paint if that's your gift) and see what Eve might have to say . . .

as we allow those three thousand years of concrete buried on top of her to begin to dissolve and blow away with the wind . . . to invite Eve to speak in her own voice . . . through your pen or your paintbrush.

Participants who would like to include their creation (art or poem or reflection) in VITALITY's next book Inviting Eve to Speak will be able to share the profits of book sales! VITALITY-friends can help you shape your finished product.

painting by Fran Malone, inspired by Sweet Lady J, the teller of the tales — including the Eden Story — that became Genesis and the bedrock of much of the world's imagination!

join one or join all sessions! food & tea provided!
at VITALITY — rsvp 513.300.5174

Sunday, June 2 . . . 3 - 5pm
Monday, June 3 . . . 6 - 8pm
Monday, June 17 . . . 6 - 8pm
Sunday, June 30 . . . 3 - 5pm